Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

The tide for Wendell Willkie, candidate for President, runs toward the flood. According to Fulton Lewis Jr. radio commentator, the State of New York now favors Willkie. Betting odds in San Francisco and New York today are even. Only a few weeks ago Roosevelt led, 12 to 5. And, in these last two weeks, both sides on this crucial national battle of the ballots, are going to put forth every effort to persuae the voters. Ickes will continue to lambast Willkie, and it now looks as if John L. Lewis would blast Roosevelt come Friday. Neither one of these demagogues can make any votes for their candidate, but such is the frailty of human nature, that both are blissfully unconscious of the fact.

"If Willkie is elected," declared Senator Vandenburg over the radio the other evening, "it will be the first time since the world war that a buck private has occupied the White House." The rest of his speech was a bit on the old order of stump oratory, but that one sentence connoted much in the American way of life. We like to think of the man who volunteered as a buck private and went overseas to war and by sheer merit and valor in the battle lines won promotions to finally come home with a captain's shoulder strap. The busy years that followed, building that typical American career is a homely, comforting thought. No wonder our patrician Presient hates this man of the people, who won his place in the world by energy and character, without the aid of a huge fortune, left in trust, by his father.

The contrast between two candidates was never more marked in the history of the country, perhaps, since Andrew Jackson ran against the Massachusetts aristocrat, John Quincy Adams, in 1828 and defeated his adversary handsomely by a large popular majority. At that, Adams was entrenched in the White House and used every power at his command to beat off the onslaught of Old Hickory.

Lincoln, too, a man of the people, rail-splitter, store-keeper, and literally a "barefoot" lawyer, had the same set-up against him that Willkie has today. Opposing Lincoln was Stephen A. Douglas, who like Roosevelt, had neve actually worked with his hands, but had always managed to get a job in the public service. Lincoln with his homely phrasing and country manner was no match in a forensic sense for the polished politician who opposed him, but the things that Lincoln said stuck in the minds of men long after they had forgotten his uncouth stage presence.

The hint has come from the White House, that once re-elected for a third term, and the world "settles down" as the English put it, he will resign his great office, and retire to Hyde Park leaving the visionary Henry Wallace to carry on at Washington. We have never taken this hint very seriously because President Roosevelt has done so much wishful thinking in his firesides chats, that we have come to look to his acts for the truth, rather than his words. Sour experience tells us, that when this world emergency is over, if by chance world peace comes during the next four years, and by chance the President is again ensconced in the White House, he will find another emergency that will not permit him to cast off the role of indispensability.

But were Roosevelt to resign, following his possible election, it would establish one more Roosevelt precedent. He would have named his successor. For Wallace was forced down the gagging throats of the Democrats assembled in Chicago by the President himself over the long distance telephone. Anyone who listened to the debate on vice presidential candidates over the radio in that memorable gathering will attest to that fact. And, just how many people are there in this country who would support the heebejeebe, slightly hexed gentleman from Iowa for the presidency? The thought is enough to make even

Institute Will Close Tomorrow

County School Teachers In Three Day Session In This City

The three day institute for Nevada County schoolteachers will conclude with tomorrow's sessions at the Nevada City High School. The institute opened yesterday.

The program for the final day will be featured by a talk by George C. Jensen, assistant superintendent of schools of Sacramento on "Can We Educate for Democracy?" H. E. Kjorlie is chairman of the general session program.

After the general session the teachers will divide into two groups, the elementary teachers hearing Mrs. Mackay, art demonstrator, speak and the high school section hearing Jensen talk on "Major Changes in American High Schools."

130 Teachers Present

Approximately 130 teachers are attending the institute. The speakers yesterday included Roy Cloud, executive secretary, California Teachers Association; S. A. Pepper, principal of the McClatchy High School of Sacramento, and Harold Houser of the Grass Valley Henessy School.

Cloud spoke on Professional and Legislative Problems of the California Teachers' Association. His address, delivered at the general session, was well received by the teachers. Principal Pepper of the McClatchy school spoke at the general session on Developing Leadership and then delivered an address to the high school teachers on The High School Program. Houser's speech to the elementary school instructors was on Safety Education.

Today's Program

Miss Helen Heffernan, chief of division of elementary education, State Department of Education, addressed the teachers today in general session.. Her topic was Reading in the Public Schools. Mrs. Ruth Edmands general supervisor of Colusa County, was the speaker of the elementary session. talking on Adaptions or Intergration with Emphasise on Oral and Written Expression.

The speaker at the high school session was Dr. R. E. Rutledge, president of the Sacramento Junior College. He spoke on The High School's Contribution to the Occupational Adjustment of Youth.

This afternoon's session was highlighted by an address by Miss Winifred Van Hagen, chief of bureau of physical education for girls, State Department of Education, on The Physical Education Program. Her talk was followed by plays and games.

The institute will close tomorrow with a business session, with Elmer Stevens of Grass Valley acting as chairman.

ABSENT VOTERS MUST GET BALLOTS 5 DAYS BEFORE NOVEMBER 5

A warning that all requests for absentee ballots must be received by county registrars or clerks five days before election day on November 5 was sounded today by Senator Jerrold L. Seawell, Willkie-McNary campaign director.

Senator Seawell pointed out that state law provided that the requests must be received five days prior to election in order to legally qualify the absentee vote.

He also said that those citizens who know they would be out of the state on November 5 could cast their votes before leaving.

County registrars will supply ballots that can be marked before the citizen leaves, Senator Seawell stated.

CCC YOUTHS TO HUNT FOR WILLIAM COLE

Aged Man Disappeared From County Hospital On Monday Night

Civilian Conservation Corps youths are to join in the search for William Cole, 64, Nevada County rancher, who disappeared from the Nevada County Hospital here, where he had been undergoing medical treatment for a week.

Cole was taken to the hospital from the county jail, where he was serving a sentence following his conviction of an assault charge in connection with the shooting of Al Rodda, his nephew in law, in a dispute over the use of a gate.

Today marked the third day since Cole left the hospital. No one has seen him since Monday night when William Brewer, hospital orderly, apprehended him on the Grass Valley highway. Cole disappeared again, however, while Brewer was telephoning for the sheriff.

The missing man was reported to be wearing only a shirt, gray trousers, slippers and did not have a hat. Officers and hospital officials expressed fear for his safety inasmuch as the aged man was in a weakened condition.

RECENT BURGLARIES SOLVED BY CHIEF

Chief of Police Max Solaro has announced many of the recent robberies here, including those of Elks Hall, Cliff's Cigar Box, Home's Men's Shop, Colleys, a purse at the high school and watches from swimmers at Lake Vera, have been solved.

Chief Solaro announced confessions have been obtained from minor youths and their cases have been referred to Probation Officer A. W. McGagin.

WHY ARE THE FIRE TRUCKS RED?

HISTORY OF NEVADA CITY DEPARTMENT EXPLAINS

FIRE TRUCKS ALWAYS RUSHIN'

Following is a history of the Nevada City Volunteer Fire Department. The beginning seems peculiar, but read on; interesting information lies ahead:

 WHY ARE FIRE TRUCKS RED?
Fire trucks are red.
Newspapers are read, too.
Two plus two equals four.
Four times three are twelve.
Twelve inches is a ruler.
A ruler is Queen Mary.
Queen Mary sails the ocean.
The ocean has fish.
Fish have fins.
Finns fight the Russians.
The Russians are red.
Fire trucks are always rushin'.
Therefore they are red, too.

It wasn't until a disastrous fire on July 19, 1856, during which 250 buildings were burned, causing a loss of $1,050,700, that any attempt to organize for fire protection was made in Nevada City.

In August of that year the businessmen appointed a committee of six members to patrol the city each night to watch for fires. The city had about 9,000 feet of pipe to provide water to most of the town but there was no hose of any kind for fire protection. This committee to patrol the town gradually died out.

Ball Nets Fine Sum

The next attempt to organize a fire department was on December 26, 1859 when the ladies of the town held a ball and a play and netted $1,072.50. No mention of doing anything with this money is made in history, however.

In May 20, 1860, a fire burned the Keystone Hotel and five other buildings. This fire was combatted with one leaky hose connected to a water supply which had been furnished by the Nevada Water Company. Another fire a few days later was extinguished by a Grass Valley hose company.

Finding it necessary to call on Grass Valley for help apparently was the deciding factor in organizing a fire department for on June 12, 1860, Nevada Hose Company No. 1 was organized with 47 members and N. E. Wheaton was elected fireman. He resigned a month later and T. W. Sigourney was elected fireman. On June 13, 1860, Eureka Hose Company No. 2 was organized with

Local Stores Will Remain Open Sat. And Pay Nights

BUSINESSMEN OFFER EXCELLENT BARGAINS IN EFFORT TO STIMULATE TRADE IN NEVADA CITY

Designed to benefit patrons in the mountain communities as well as local customers unable to do their shopping before 6 o'clock, Nevada City merchants tomorrow night will inaugurate new payday and Saturday night closing hours.

For the inauguration, many business firms are offering outstanding buys, in effect both tomorrow, payday and Saturday.

The decision to remain open until 9 p. m. on Saturdays and payday nights was reached at a meeting of 25 local merchants in the National Hotel here Monday night.

Speakers at the gathering announced they were in favor of the plan to accommodate their customers in North San Juan, Camptonville, Alleghany, Forest, Downieville and other mountain communities who find it impossible to reach Nevada City before six o'clock after they are through work.

Chamber Secretary Explains Reasons For Adopting New Saturday and Payday Hours

By H. F. SOFGE
Secretary Chamber of Commerce

After holding two meetings to thoroughly discuss the matter many Nevada City merchants have decided to keep their places of business open until 9 o'clock on pay and Saturday evenings, thereby enabling their customers who are unable to get down town to make their purchases before six o'clock, plenty of time to choose just what they wish to buy.

They have decided to start the new pogram this coming Friday and Saturday This move has been taken in a spirit of cooperation, bearing in mind the old saying that what helps one, helps all. In making this change they particularly had in mind the miners who, coming off day shift, cannot conveniently come down town earlier than after 6 o'clock. Instead of having to rush through their buying before closing time, they will have plenty of time to make their purchases—a method most satisfactory to all.

These merchants are endeavoring to make buying easy in Nevada City and hope this change will be a solution of the problem. They do not expect to get rich by any means, but if they can, in this way, accommodate the buyer who is unable to reach town in time to beat the 6 o'clock closing hour on these days, they feel they have accomplished something for the good of the entire community.

Report Business Loss

It was stated Nevada City merchants were losing considerable business by ignoring the needs of their mountain community friends.

The adoption of the new Saturday and payday nights closing hours was the first step by many of the merchants to stimulate trade in Nevada City.

To further continue plans for the improving of business conditions here, another meeting will be held Monday night. It will be at Schreiber's Cafe, starting at 7 p. m.

Will Remain Open

The merchants signing to remain open until 9 p. m. starting tomorrow night, include Schreiber's Cafe, R. J. Berggren, Pied Piper, Service Garage, The Lantern Shoppe, Rose Fashion Shop, Bosworth Furniture Company, Risley's, The Sweet Shoppe, Hartungs Jeweler, Save More Variety, The Specialty Shop, Kopps' Bakery, Purity Grocery Store, Purity Meat Market, The Style Shop, Colley's Confectionery, Boston Mercantile Company, Harris Drug Store, The Shamrock Cafe, Safeway Stores, The Bottle Shop, William Home Men's Clothing, Universal Dollar Store and National Meat Market.

For tomorrow and Saturday many of the local merchants are advertising excellent bargains. Read page five for the many bargains offered during the Bargain and Dollar Days Sale.

The Shamrock, Berggren's, Sweet Shop, Boston Store, Presley, Save More, National Market, Style Shop, Diamond Match, Specialty Shop, Universal Store, Purity Market and Home's are offering sensational bargains which they believe to be unequalled anywhere.

LOCALS HOPE FOR VICTORY OVER TIGERS

Coach Ed Frantz' Nevada City High School Yellowjackets will battle the strong Roseville High School Tigers here Saturday afternoon. The game will be the final home contest for the Nevada City squad.

The B teams of the two schools will tangle in a preliminary contest.

The Yellowjockets are anxious to win Saturday's battle. The Roseville eleven downed Grass Valley and if the Yellowjackets can win it will give them confidence for the game with the Miners on Armistice Day.

Coach Frantz is pinning his offensive hopes on Floyd Ruth, whose playing this year has made him one of the most oustanding backfield men in northern California high schools.

GIANI SEVERELY INJURES HAND

Virgil Giani suffered painful injuries this week when his hand became caught in a wood saw while he was attempting to tighten the pulley on the machine.

Giani was treated by Dr. B. W. Hummelt for a seriously lacerated right hand. The tips of two fingers were cut off and the fingers broken.

The well known local resident is recuperating at his home here.

Mrs. Anna Tucker and Mrs. Ida Guenther of this city spent the past weekend in Folsom with Mrs. Tucker's sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ronchi.

ROBERT KOHLER, DEMOCRAT JOINS WILLKIE FORCES

Robert W. Kohler, Nevada City farmer and former member of the Democratic County Central Committee, today announced his acceptance of chairmanship of the Nevada County unit of the Northern California Democrats for Willkie movement.

A life-long Democrat and twice previously a supporter of President Roosevelt, Kohler will head an intensive drive in behalf of the Republican nominee between now and election day.

He will be assisted by an executive committee of outstanding Democrats and by a woman's division, he said. A precinct by precinct canvass of all Democratic registration will be undertaken, and telephone solicitation of voters will be made in an effort to get out every possible Democratic vote for Wendell Willkie.

Widespread opposition to the 3rd term candidacy of President Roosevelt exists in Nevada County, Kohler said, adding that there also exists "a genuine feeling of enthusiasm for Wendell Willkie's job program and his insistence that America must become strong economically as well as in armament."

"President Roosevelt has left the Democratic party, we have not left him," Kohler said. "He has asked us to break the most sacred of our Democratic traditions by going along with him on a third term, and this true Democrats cannot do."

"Both business and labor are finding hope in the candidacy of Mr. Willkie, and these elements, combined with the agricultural vote should be sufficient to place California among those states helping to elect him on November 5."

Scores Determine Selective Service Serial Numbers

Merle Morrison, clerk of the Nevada County Selective Service board, revealed today scores o. men are calling at the board's neadquarters on the third floor of the courthouse to determine their serial number for selective service.

In Nevada County there are 2766 registrants. One copy of the registrant list was mailed to the Selective Service headquarters in Sacramento, one posted in the office here and one given to the press.

Morrison's office hours are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. each day except on Saturday, when the office closes at noon.

The local board received more than 65 cards of residents of Nevada County who registered elsewhere. In turn, the board sent out approximately 150 cards of those living in other parts of the United States who registered in Nevada County last week.

TRI COUNTY GATHERING OF WOMEN HERE

The Nevada City Women's Civic Club is issuing a cordial invitation to the public to attend the tri county convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs here next Tuesday.

The convention will be featured by the attendance of State President Mrs. Richards. The state president will be the principal speaker. Mrs. George of Chico will also speak.

The morning session of the federation will open in the Methodist Church at 10 a. m. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 and it was announced all those desiring lunch must make reservations with Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, telephone 380, not later than Monday.

It has been several years since tri county convention is held in Nevada City and the committee hopes for a good local representation at the sessions.

Willkie Workers Strive For Big Vote

This campaign is full of a number of things that make it stand out in our nation's political activity.

We've seen more buttons than ever before and, too, more kinds of buttons, stickers, folders and what-nots—all of them red, white and blue.

We've dodged more auto stickers and heard more radio talks. We've had the usual — and unusual — requests for donations.

But it is a startling thing to see volunteer workers take the field in a get-out-the-vote drive. Disregarding routine of political machinery, the activity and energy of the Willkie workers is the oustanding phenomenon of the campaign.

With zeal, these crusaders have dug into the job of getting out the vote on election day—"regardless of party." Their job is to talk to every voter, asking that each perform his or her civic duty to vote "rain or shine."

Like all worthy citizens, they know that to make democracy work, responsibility for it must be shared by all who enjoy its benefits.

From that angle alone—from their detetrmination to remind every eligible voter that he should vote on November 5—the Volunteers are performing a real job of citizenship.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder about pleasant things
That come when skies are dreary,
A postcard from an absent friend,
A letter bright and cheery.
And how amid the wrack of war
The little pleasant things of life
Still speak of hope and love.

I wonder if, in this mad world of war and rumors of war, charges and counter charges, alarm and alarmists, the little pleasant things of life are becoming increasingly precious. They are with me—and you?

In a letter just received from a busy lady in far away New York, occurs an extract which I wish to share with you.

"My office has an aquamarine wall, deep blue steel desk, table and files, lighter aqua draperies at the window with big, reddish brown roses climbing up them, an arm chair in the same material, and a smaller chair in dull yellow. There is a small sofa—really a love seat, but it gets no love, poor thing, in a tailor shade of red brown.

The window looks out over the Chapaque Valley and hills to the west and just now the wild grasses are turning flame color and the swamp maple and beeches crimson, the poison ivy is truly a beautiful gold and orange.

You should see how pretty the cedar spray looks fastened to my parchment desk lamp shade. The spangles are just the color of the parchment."

The world series, gone but not forgotten, can not be regarded as a little thing, but it certainly afforded several pleasant interludes during the time it was in progress. Perhaps the most enjoyable aspect of those thrilling games was the good sportsmanship displayed by the contending teams, the willingness to give credit where credti was due and the good natured acceptance of defeat by the losing Tigers.

I wonder if political campaigns should be umpired.

It is pleasing also to realize that the deer hunting season has passed by with so few inadvertencies and fatal mistakes. Of course many antlered creatures lost their lives, a few does were slain and several spike bucks have been reported missing, but taken all in all, the hunting season has been unusually free from tragedy and the hunters themselves come through it practically unscathed.

Year by year the hunting fraternity becomes more cautious; they have learned that deer not not wear hed hats and that many things cause bushes to rustle beside startled bucks. They are also guarding the forests in which they delight to hunt from devastating fires; and these facts bring intense satisfaction to us all.

Yes, there are many little pleasant things—great ones too, we find them as we open our hearts to the sunshine, and enlarge the scope and power of our appreciation.

Uncle Silas says: "Those Japs must be expert climbers to have won recognition from the Aryanistrocrats of Berlin. Expediency surely produces strange combinations."

FIRE TRUCK

54 members. Number 1 company raised $400 on Main Street by popular subscription and bought a four wheel hose cart. Number 2 company raised $1,000 in the same manner and equipped themselves with a two wheel hose cart.

William Barton was elected chief engineer June 20, 1860, and 1,000 feet of hose purchased. At this time a board of fire delegates to represent each company was elected with three members from each company.

How Penn Co. Named

On June 23, 1860, Protection Hook and Ladder Company was organized with 27 members. About this time Eureka Hose Company No. 2 purchased the cart and apparatus of Pennsylvania Engine Co. No. 12 of San Francisco and changed their name to fit the name on the cart.

The development of the fire department from then on has kept up with the times. From the two wheel hose carts to the four wheel hose wagons pulled by hand and then by horses to our two modern streamlined trucks is a story of the progress of civilization.

The present fire department is composed of the same Nevada Hose Co. No. 1 and Pennsylvania Engine Company No. 2 with its board of delegates, its chief, assistant chief and company officers.

Both trucks are equipped with pumps, water tanks of 100 and 400 gallons capacity, 200 feet of garden hose on a reel on each truck for small fires, coats, hats, axes, spotlights and flash lights for night fires, ladders, in fact practically everything that might be needed at a fire.

Inhalator Purchased

Besides this equipment, the department is now equipped with an inhalator for reviving drowning or asphixiated persons. Just this summer three self contained oxygen breathing masks have been added to the equipment for rescue work in places where there is possibilities of gas and a team composed of 12 men and a captain train with these masks at least once a month in their use.

Another feature of our present department set up is the value of having a paid driver at the fire house at all times. During the year from August, 1939, to August, 1940, there were over 80 calls of which more than 75 per cent were telephone calls for chimney fires, which were handled by the paid truck driver alone, thus eliminating much confusion and loss of time to the other members of the department.

his murdered little pigs turn over in their graves.

Will this country at last turn a deaf ear to the siren voice of the radio, and judge the New Deal administration by the huge political machine created to keep Mr. Roosevelt in office, by the public debt of fantastic, astronomical proportions, by the nine million unemployed "forgotten men", that for seven years have existed on the dole, by a score of promises lightly made and lightly broken? In brief will the voters still measure the man by his words and his promises, or will they decide at last to put a man in the White House who came up from the bottom of the heap to become one of the country's foremost business leaders?

The fact that Candidate Roosevelt first said he would make no political camgaign owing to his preoccupation with the country's defense, but is now to make five political speeches before November 5, indicates that he is much concerned about the drift to Willkie. So the people are to be bombarded by the best radio voice heard since radios were invented. Will that talent win Mr. Roosevelt election for a third term. Or, will there be enough voters with intelligence enough to review the New Deal record, and judge him by that rather than by what he says?

WILLKIE IS FORTUNATE ALTERNATIVE

By FRANK R. KENT
(In The Baltimore Sun)

WASHINGTON — Inefficiency is the really serious indictment made by the dictators against the democracies. It is true that a considerable amount of inefficiency is the price we pay—and it is worth it—for the individual liberty inherent in our form of government.

France did not collapse nor is England today desperately fighting for her life because the leaders of those countries were evil or sinister, but only because, under their control, their governments did not do their jobs even reasonably well. They were not the men to make democracy work. They were the men who couldn't make it work. Nor is this country, now suddenly called on to build a great defense machine, in its present tragically messed up and helpless condition because Mr. Roosevelt is a wicked man.

It is in that condition because, under Mr. Roosevelt and his starry-eyed New Deal aides, the inefficiency inseparable from democracy has been expanded into almost total incompetency. In this country we can stand indefinitely the inevitable inefficiency and its accompanying waste so long as we head in the right direction and cling to the fundamentals upon which our system rests. What we cannot stand indefinitely is the reversal of the direction. What really endangers our survival as a free people is the tossing aside by our rulers of basic things, their contempt for common sense and their disregard of the teachings of experience for half-baked experiments, the failures of which many years ago have been recorded in history.

That is the charge against Mr. Roosevelt, and it is a charge for which none but a demagogue defense is possible. It is because he has been guilty of these things that today, in the midst of a great world crisis which menaces our security and calls for the expenditure of many billions of dollars for its defense, we find ourselves in an extended and enfeebled state unfit to stand the coming strain and unprepared for the unavoidable sacrifices. Our finances are in an alarmingly confused condition. They have been out of control for seven years. There has been a vast and unbroken accumulation of deficits. The debt has reached staggering proportions. Although the already heavy taxes will be heavily increased by the bill just enacted, revenues will fall many millions short of meeting the normal operating governmental expenses. No provision whatever has been made for meeting the immense new armament appropriations.

The threat of ruinous inflation, which is the inevitable consequence of an uncontrolled Treasury, oppresses every thoughtful citizen but seems as yet not to have seeped through the unthinking masses upon whose support Mr. Roosevelt has traded but who in the end will be the worst victims of his incompetency. This situation is too clear to admit of denial. The unemployment problem is completely unsolved. Neither industry nor agriculture is prosperous. The WPA and relief rolls are swollen to great size. There ae 10,00,000 people deriving part or all of their income from government checks The federal job holders now number more than 1,000,000 and the country is full of class hatred stirred up by New Deal policies.

In the face of this extraordinary and indisputable record, and in defiance of American tradition, Mr. Roosevelt seeks a third term. When the facts are calmly considered his candidacy is almost unbelievable. It is, of course, the war—and only the war—that gives him this chance of success. It enables him to ignore even mention of the nation's perilous fiscal condition. It enables him, through the pouring out of defense billions to create an artificial recovery and falsely to pose as having been "drafted" for a third term because of the national emergency.

It is understandable how the job holders, the subsidized millions, the uninformed and the politicians can accept and push this view. But it is not easy to conceive how a newspaper like the St. Louis Post Dispatch which is opposed to the third term in principle, recognized Mr. Roosevelt's incompetency in domestic affairs and recently has called him a dictator, should now support him on the ground that Mr. Willkie is "untried." Nor, is any less puzzling that Miss Dorothy Thompson who, in effect, has pretty plainly said that in domestic affairs Mr. Roosevelt was an incompetent, should now insist that he is an indispensable genius in foreign affairs.

To the average mind, neither of those positions makes sense. For one thing most people would rather take a chance on a man who was "untried" than continue one who had been tried for seven years and failed. For another, it seems far more sensible to believe that a man who has made so horrible a mess of domestic affairs in a time of peace would be the last man to entrust with national leadership when war threatens and even greater executive capacity is needed. It seems rassonable to think that those who know the conceded Roosevelt weaknesses and the proven Roosevelt incompetency would feel that in this critical stage an ordinary man of common sense and good character would be preferable. When the alternate is a man like Willkie it seems a great piece of national luck in which understanding citizens should rejoice.

UNEMPLOYMENT CHECKS IN SEPT. TOTAL $19,458

One of the highest monthly placement records ever made by the State Department of Employment was recorded in September of this year, according to announcement made today by Edward E. Steele, manager of the Grass Valley department office.

Placements for the month totaled 28,208 against 27.21 for August of this year, an increase of 4.4 per cent, and against 26,963 for September 1939, an increase of 4.6 per cent, Steele said.

The Department's active file, that is, persons who are registered for work with the department, dropped 10.4 per cent, from 436,745 in August, to 391,447 in September.

In the Grass Valley office, placements for September 1940 totaled 94, against 71 for August and 58 for September 1939.

In the unemployment comensation field, a state wide total of 315,880 checks were distributed to eligible workers during September of this year, amounting to $4,414,857. This compared favorably with 370,685 checks written in August of this year, for a total distribution of $5,1235,057, indicating that increased employment had tanen up some of the slack, Steele stated.

In the Grass Valley area, a total of 1,282 checks were written in September 1940, and $19,458 distributed to unemployed workers here.

PASTOR THANKS ALL WHO AIDED CHURCH

The Rev. David Ralston, pastor of the Methodist church desires to thank all those who made the dinner and opening night of the church's new social hall such a magnificent success. Scores of those who failed to obtain tickets in time could not be accommodated because the turkeys had been ordered on a basis of tickets sold and the ladies of the church could not provide for those who came without having obtained tickets in advance.

FOUR NEV. CITY STUDENTS WIN JR. COL. HONORS

Melvin Creedman, freshman from Nevada City, was elected president of the freshman class of the Placer Junior College for the first semester in the election held on last week. Creedman, formerly of Boston, attended Nevada City High School but one year.

All four officers are graduates of the Nevada City High School.

Ed Doolittle was elected vice-president. Doolittle is playing tackle for the Spartans at Placer this year.

Todd Bonner, newly elected class secretary, had been attending Mount St. Mary's business school in Grass Valley.

Buster Williams, elected sergeant at arms, was president of the block "N" society at Nevada City High School, and treasurer of his senior class.

All four candidates were elected by overwhelming odds over their opponents

SUPERIOR COURT DECISION AWARDS STOCK TO A. H. HOGE

A decision awarding Arthur W. Hoge judgment for 6,000 shares of the capital stock of the Lava Cap Gold Mining Company was rendered in the superior court here by Judge George L. Jones. Hoge brought suit against the Lava Cap for the stock. The trial, held recently, required several days.

The court found that the stock was issued to Hoge in accordance with an agreement as compensation for services rendered by Hoge for the Lava Cap Company. A resolution authorizing the issuance of the stock to Hoge was made by the company on August 1, 1933, and the certificate of stock was turned over to one Lemon to whom it had been entrusted by the plaintiff.

Lemon later turned the stock certiificate over to the company without informing Hoge of the action of the board in issuing and it was canceled. The court held that such cancellation was illegal and that it did not deprive the plaintiff of the stock represented by the certificate.

'I WANT TO BE A CAPTAIN TOO' CLUBS FORMING

"I Want to be a Captain Too" clubs have sprung into being on the campuses of ten California universities and colleges following draft registrations, neared and eligible young men organized to oppose what the termed favoritism in appointing Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President as captain in the air corps.

In addition to the campus organizations, many young men who are working and who are subject to the draft, were organizing clubs in various districts, it is reported.

One of these organizations was headed by Terrence Hayward, III, who organized a group at the San Francisco Y. M. C. A.

"I want to be a Captain Too" clubs were being organized at College of Pacific, Stockton; Fresno State, Redlands University, Claremont College, Pomona; Stanford, University of California, University of California at Los Angeles, University of Sothern California and San Jose State, it is reported.

The interest on the Federal debt for the fiscal year 1941 will be $1,100,000,000. This is $300,000,000 in excess of the total Federal appropriations for any peacetime year prior to 1916.

MITTELSTAEDT'S INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRANTS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Now that Uncle Sam has their names, yong men who registered for military training were advised today what to do next by Adj.-Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt, state director of selective service.

Carry your registration cards with you always registrants were advised, as proof of your signing up in case you are challenged.

Be sure to read "Bulletin of Information for Persons Registered" which you were handed at your polling place. This bulleting advises:

1. Report to your local board any change of address.

2. Report to your local board before leaving you county on an extended trip.

3. Obtain permission from your local board before leaving the United States.

4. Report to your local board any change in your condition which might affect your classification. (Change in dependents, occupation, citizenship, or physical condition.)

5. For information, write only to your local board, your advisory board for registrants, and the government appeal agent assigned to your local board.

6. Last but not least important, it is your duty to keep in touch with your local board to learn what it is doing about you.

Your local board, the bulletin says, will post outside its office, notices which affect you: (1) Lists of serial numbers given to registrants. (2) List of order numbers given to registrants. (3) Notice of mailing questionnaires to registrants.

Contact your local board regarding notices it will mail you. These include (1) Notice of classification. (2) Notice to appear for physical examination. (3) Notice of local board's decision as to uhysical qualifications. (4) Order to report for training; Class 2—Deferred because of your jobs importance to the nation; Class 3—Deferred because of dependents; Class 4—Deferred because of physical disability, or other reasons.

Watch for your classification at your local board office. Classification records are open for inspection at these offices. Therefore, failure to receive notices mailed by the boards will not excuse you from complying with them.

In other words, young man, you are entirely responsible for knowing everything that happens to you.

BOWMAN ROAD NEARLY FINISHED

The Bowman Lake road project is expected to be finished the latter part of this month, the Tahoe National Forest announces here.

Work isnow progressing on the bridge across Bear River and with the completion of that the job will be finished.

The reconstructed road is said to be many times better than the old one.

The improving of the road was made possible through the cooperation of the boards of supervisors of Nevada and Placer Counties, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and sportsmen's organizations in Nevada and Placer Counties.

THE LIFE OF WENDELL WILLKIE - - - - - - - - From the Willkie Volunteers in Northern California

When Wendell Willkie decided to get married, Saturday, Jan. 12, 1918, was the day set, but on the way he was caught in a blizzard which stalled the train 25 miles from Rushville. He spent Sunday phoning while the wedding bouquet he carried wilted.

He finally arrived on Monday, Jan. 14, ruefully handed Edith Wilk the bedraggled bouquet and they were married that same day. Miss Wilk wore white satin, a veil and carried the frostbitten orchids and lilies of the valley Wendell had brought with him.

Lieut. Willkie sailed for France, a short time after his wedding, with the 325th Field Artillery with which he served through hostilities, rising to the rank of captain because of his interest and skill in gunnery. He never cared much for strict discipline of the Army.

Capt. Willkie, following the end of hostilities, remained in France several months in a legal capacity, defending court-martialed soldiers who, he believed, were victims of too strict an application of military law. His humanitarian defense won many cases.

HARMLESS HALLOWE'EN PARTY PLANNED FOR LOCAL KIDDIES

The Elementary Parent Teachers Association Hallowe'en Festival has definitely taken form. The festival is directed to the end of furnishing a healthful, harmless Hallowe'en.

A large variety of entertainment is being planned under the supervision of teachers and committee members. A general admission of ten cents will entitle parents and children to see a program put on by the various classes, each of which will furnish a number. Following the program a grand march will take place, prizes for which are a $1 merchandise order for the best girl's costume and $1 merchandise order for the best boys costume. Additional prizes and door prizes will also be given.

Featured will be concessions including a fish pond, auction sale white elephant sale, fortune telling, movie room, pup shows, hot dogs and coffee and cider and do-nuts. Another big event will be the five cent jitney dance. Grown folks as well as children are assured of an entertaining evening.

Proceeds of the festival are to be used for a worthy cause. Many undernourished children will be given milk and a prominent health program for Nevada City's needy children is being undertaken.

During the last school term $120 was spent on the PTA's largest and most important enterprise, the milk project. In addition $70 was spent on student activities, including boy and girl scouts. The PTA hopes to equal or surpass the previous record during the present term.

BEHAVE YOURSELF!

Mischevious conduct will not be tolerated in Nevada City Hallowe'en.

This is the edict of Chief of Police Max Solaro, who said acts of lawbreaking will be prosecuted.

Lawbreaking acts include the taking of gates, marking of cars and buildings and throwing of rotten eggs or tomatoes.

Most of the young folks in Nevada City plan on attending the Parent Teachers Association Hallowe'en Festival. Besides keeping them out of mischief, the festival will provide the youngsters several hours of pleasant entertainment.

NEV. CITY WILL HEAR 'HITLER'S SECRET WEAPON'

Nevada City residents prepared to welcome Eloi-Sun, Honolulu psychologist and philosopher for an important message on national defense —Wednesday night, October 30 when he will lecture on "Hitler's Secret Weapon."

Slated for a return engagement in the Twin Cities the lecture will be held in Odd Fellows Hall it was announced by Margaret Ferguson of San Francisco, in Nevada City as Eloi-Sun's advance representative. The world recognized scientist returns here from Sacramento and San Francisco after giving a series of community inspiring talks at the Veterans Memorial in Grass Valley under the local sponsorship of the Hague-Thomas-Hegarty Post No. 130 American Legion. He pauses here in the course of a nation wide lecture tour for Ramparts of Democracy, National democratic education movement.

Eloi-Sun claims the unique distinction of receiving his revelations on Hitler's tool for world conquest from the Nazi dictator himself and of paying for the knowledge in the dungeons of Nuremberg prison.

As to the exact natue of Hitler's vaunted weapon, local acquaintances of the lecturer maintain it will have to remain a secret unil he arrives here. But they do point out that Hitler's secret weapon is no invention of an over-imaginative mind and that its scope is not limited to Great Britain but constitutes a serious threat to the United States and every other world democracy.

OPENING OF NEW PENNEY STORE SET FOR OCT. 31

Opening day for J. C. Penney Company's new modernized store in Grass Valley has been postponed from October 24 to October 31, next Thursday. At the last moment it was found impossible to be ready in time.

The new store is the old Clinch Mercantile store, owned for many years by the Penney company, enlarged, reconstructed and thoroughly modernized, with a commodious mezzanine, a great roomy basement and stairs of easy gradient leading to them from the huge merchandise room on the street level. An entire new front brings the line of the building to the sidewalk line. The old pillared corridor in front where so much room was wasted, has been abolished. One store room on the south has been leased for a long term of years to a chain five-and-ten corporation.

The rear walls have been thrust back many feet giving an thousands of square feet in added floor space. New hardwood floors have been laid throughout and all exterior walls are of cement. Earl Covey, manager declares the new store has been so planned as to take care of the company's expanding business for many years to come.
